

SHORT STORY

Nicholaus James

We were in New York NY. It was just breaking past dawn as we all headed back to the hotel room from a long evening.

The plane had landed at JFK off of a united flight from LAX. It was at least 10am and the airport was jam packed from all the LAX United passengers. Hell half of them were gay. How do I know I was one of them.

Heading down to the baggage clam pick up we had realized that not only being here for Mizarahi ball but here to shop our asses off for the best of the best clothing.

We left the area heading to the cars that was waiting for us that was all fully hopefully filled up with gas. The cars had been awaiting our arrival for at least maybe from the looks like maybe 7 mins because they still had that look like they just start up look u know. But as we walked through the halls of the airport there was a distinct smell but not quite getting it there was a bathroom that it was coming from.

Everybody got into the cars with the intentions on going straight to the hotel while some guy was loading our cars up with our bags an all. As we left the parking lot the car was full of people an the tank was damn there full of gas. We got into the traffic an started off on the bounty hunt for The Dolphin but was lost in a pool of sky scrappers, an taxi cabs.

Now by mistake we accidentally got lost in the big apple an ended up looking around all over the place. Not of course being the plan but we found a shopping center to the right of us. It was just a mistake but we found it. Justin got out of the car along with 5 other. The vehicle he was in was a SUV.

They had all started putting on makeup in the car and changing shoes. They started looking sexy more and more.

Nadia, Ricky, Devine, Mickey, Cory, Sheeda, and I. we all were in the car as in an as we stepped out the vehicle we looked beet. Justin and the people that were in his car were looking hot to but I mean damn when he can get up to our level then he is without having to make his self appropriate.

As they all stepped into the center we started for the lowest range stores and moved or way up to the stores such as Macys. Justin and his boyfriend Mickey were walking through the mall if they were the only sexy things that had only existed on god green earth. Knowing Justin he probably thinks that regardless.

As we began to come to a end of our shopping extravaganza they had already separated to there friends an they had split in different directions. He spotted this boy that may I say was so damn fine that he withdrew your thirst of water an then made u want more and more.

Justin walked over to the boy who looked more of a man that was ever so sexy. They had exchanged words that clearly wasn't readable but from the looks it was good because Justin was smiling so hard that he was making his teeth bounce of the reflection of the man sunglasses.

Now its about seven an check in was at five but thanks to one of the members of the group they called an changed the hotel check in time for 10pm. The latest you can check in the hotel anyway is midnight. The hotel we had reservations for was The Dolphin.

Folks started for the car and headed for the garage. Mickey was starting our car and Justin finished up his whole conversation and started for the car. He got into his car and was headed for the hotel.

When they were in the car I was on the phone with one of these passengers and I can hear Justin in the background talking about he was everything like “ he drives my favorite car, he is so sweet, his smile is so sexy,”

When we finally got to the hotel everybody pulled into the parking lot like a mad man. Mickey hopped out the car and loaded his hands with the papers he needed to check in as we all took care of the bags.

As he they keys to the rooms were being got we all took the bags up refusing bell hop service because well we just shopped and didn't have cash. Hell we didn't have cash to begin with. I walked down to the other rooms to see what the tee was and Justin had feel damn there asleep in the bed he hopped in like a bunny rabbit on crack.

The morning had broke through the curtains. Some people had already been awoke like Mickey. The rules were that who ever you rode with u stay with. Mickey was on the phone with Justin going off on him about the boy from last night. But the thing was that everybody knows that they have a open relationship.

People started waking up, we had knocks at the door from others needing makeup, curling irons, brushes, an all. The doors had just from then remained open to us all for who ever needed anything.

We headed out to do the first outing which was shopping, eating, an to see what New York's club scene was like. Some people stayed behind to see how the service was at the hotel. Not knowing what that was about but that had there own little thing going I guess.

We hit Dillard's, Bloomingdales, and all the major stores that we can find even the main stores such as Coach, Louis, Chanel, and Carolina Herrera. Carolina Herrera is a designer that is like a one time wear clothing along with Isaac Mizarahi.

The shopping was so intense that we stopped at this place called Buckhorn. They sold sandwiches and such things. We had all got fries and like the same sandwich. We also all got to hit on this guy who was cute. We were just playing but he took it so far that he was wanting to come back to the hotel an show us a good time. The first thing that was going through our heads was sex and we was like no. but he had only ment drinking but we all know what that leads to.

We had finished up or meal an was going to go see where the ball was going to be held which was at this big old hall back over the bridge in Brooklyn, NY.

The drive took at least about maybe 3hrs because of the traffic that we had to get around. Considering that we had left the city late we made it to the other side decent time.

We had finally got the place which was okay. The only problem was that the outside had not been fixed in yrs an it looked like shit. We talked it over with the building owner an he said he could fix it for a reasonable price.

It started getting late so we headed back to the hotel which was damn there alone 1 hr from were we had and ate at. So that left us with about 4hrs if not more in the car. We sped the whole way there doing about maybe about 90 to 95 in a rush so we can get ready for the club.

When we got to the hotel parking lot it was only about 937 which left us with much time to get ready for the club. It took a min to find a park but we did an headed to the elevators.

As we got to the floor and headed to the doors we heard many such AWWWWW, YEAAAAAAA, BAAAAAABY. The only thing that could go through our minds is somebody is getting they stuff done right. Who ever it was had been so loud that people from other rooms had looked out there rooms to see what was being so loud.

Nadia opens the door to her room and see's that her man is on the floor. She turns to the right an see's why he was on the floor and see's that Miss Shale is damn there half naked. Antonio was spooked an was in so much shock that the first thing that came out his mouth was "baby it's so not what it seems to look like". knowing what was going on from jump the only thing that ca go through her mind was a blank.

. She snapped her nails off, pulled her grill out, earrings, and removed one heel. She an Miss Shale was at it head to head going off so bad on one another that we had to rush people in to close the door so nobody else can see what was going on. But hell from the sounds of it they knew what the tee was.

Wigs, and weaves went flying but 15 min into the fight it just then began to be an argument. They exchanged bitches, whores, hoes, more bitches, and all of the other names that can be possibly that can be thought of.

The night was cumin to an end. They had called the club off. Some others had went like Nick. Most of them kind of did go but some did stay. Especially the whole fighting get down they went out but separate clubs. The most of us called it a night an was out for the count awaiting the next day

The sun was up as well as I. It had been a rough night, even excusing the rough troubles we had encountered.

Justin was still laying down as well with his bedmate who ever it may. It took about another 30 min before he woke up. When he got up he started putting on some shorts an a t-shirt. Everybody actually was getting ready to do the last min shopping thing for the ball that night. From what I hear the day of the ball itself is a big rush an personally my experience I feel the same way because we have to pick up people from the airport an or the train station.

We all started to head out of the hotel to do what ever we had to do before at least 7pm. The ball started at 12 but it was opening doors at 11. The price before 12 was 15 after 12 it was 20. Justin, Mickey, Nadia, and I went to Sean John, the timberland store and Bloomingdales. But the first stop was Sean John because Justin had to get his school boy outfit.

He said that he planned on wearing like some form of major like styled jeans an a graphic t-shirt. The shoes that he planned on wearing were a pair of timberlands but the yellow pair because of that fact that he category which he walks is school boy is a realness walk.

This is something like a modeling type of thing but the only time it goes national is when the camera an press shows up. For an example this ball, the awards ball, an the drags ball which such people as Victoria La Paige. She is Ms. Continental all over the world for I think the year of 2006-2007. But over all the ballroom scene is a big basic runway show. that's more of a way to put it.

Well the day had just about gone through and we still had to get some things from Bloomingdales and something told us that the day was going to go as planned. So funny because just as I said that we got a call being an alternate phone number on the hotel room, room service had started clean our room as she spotted broken glass an lamps, pictures, an saw that the furniture was kind of messed up. They had putt the clean up sign on the door an so they just did what they I guess had to do which was report what they saw. People had I guess heard us from the day before.

The hotel manager had requested that we shorted our stay because that we had caused a lot of damage and a big mess also because people had complained. Luckily we had known folks close so we just had to move a few blocks away from were the ball was going to be. We had 1 day to check out which actually meant we had till 11am to check out the next day.

We had finished our shopping an headed back to a clean ass room. It was about maybe say 7:15 and I mean when I say that we went into that room with getting dressed on our mind. The ball was a only a few hours away an to be honest I was in a big rush because I had to pick people up but in the same fashion I wanted to look the best because I was walking face which meant that my face an all of me had to be done up. I had been to Mac to get my make-up done.

By the time I was done getting dressed I had just enough time to hit it the airport an to the ball. I took the truck an I mean I pushed that damn thing to the airport doing about 85 the whole way.

Justin an the rest were back at the hotel getting ready. He was getting his hair lined an cut into an up town fade. He had also wanted the H put in his head which stood for Herrera. He had ironed his clothes I know for a fact because he had ironed mines as well along with his.

I pulled up, saw the people and got them to the ball just in time. We had stopped and shopped secretly for a min but we had missed the 11pm special u know with the whole 15 thing.

We paid 20 and got into the ball. They had only been calling virgin category's so we were still in the clear. They had already called stars, statements, and legends so I was ass Around 1:30 they had started and just so happen I was up first. I got up and walked got my 10's across the table. The next kid walked and as he and I walked hit the floor and gave him so much that the judge panel gave me grand prize and clearly said to hell with the rest.

Justin got up and walked he got grand prize instantly because he was the realest thing they had up there so he hit it good. The ball was about over around 3 so we just went back after saying hi to all. The ball was a great success and the walks was great.

We got back to hotel and fell out on the floor latterly. We woke up that morning thankful for the trip and was starting to get ready to get to our friends house on the other side of town. We left the hotel around 11:50 or something and was on our way.

THE END.
