There once lived a maiden and her twin brother Jaden the girls name was Jade.

They both lived in a small cottage near the woods.

The two were inseparable because they belong together.

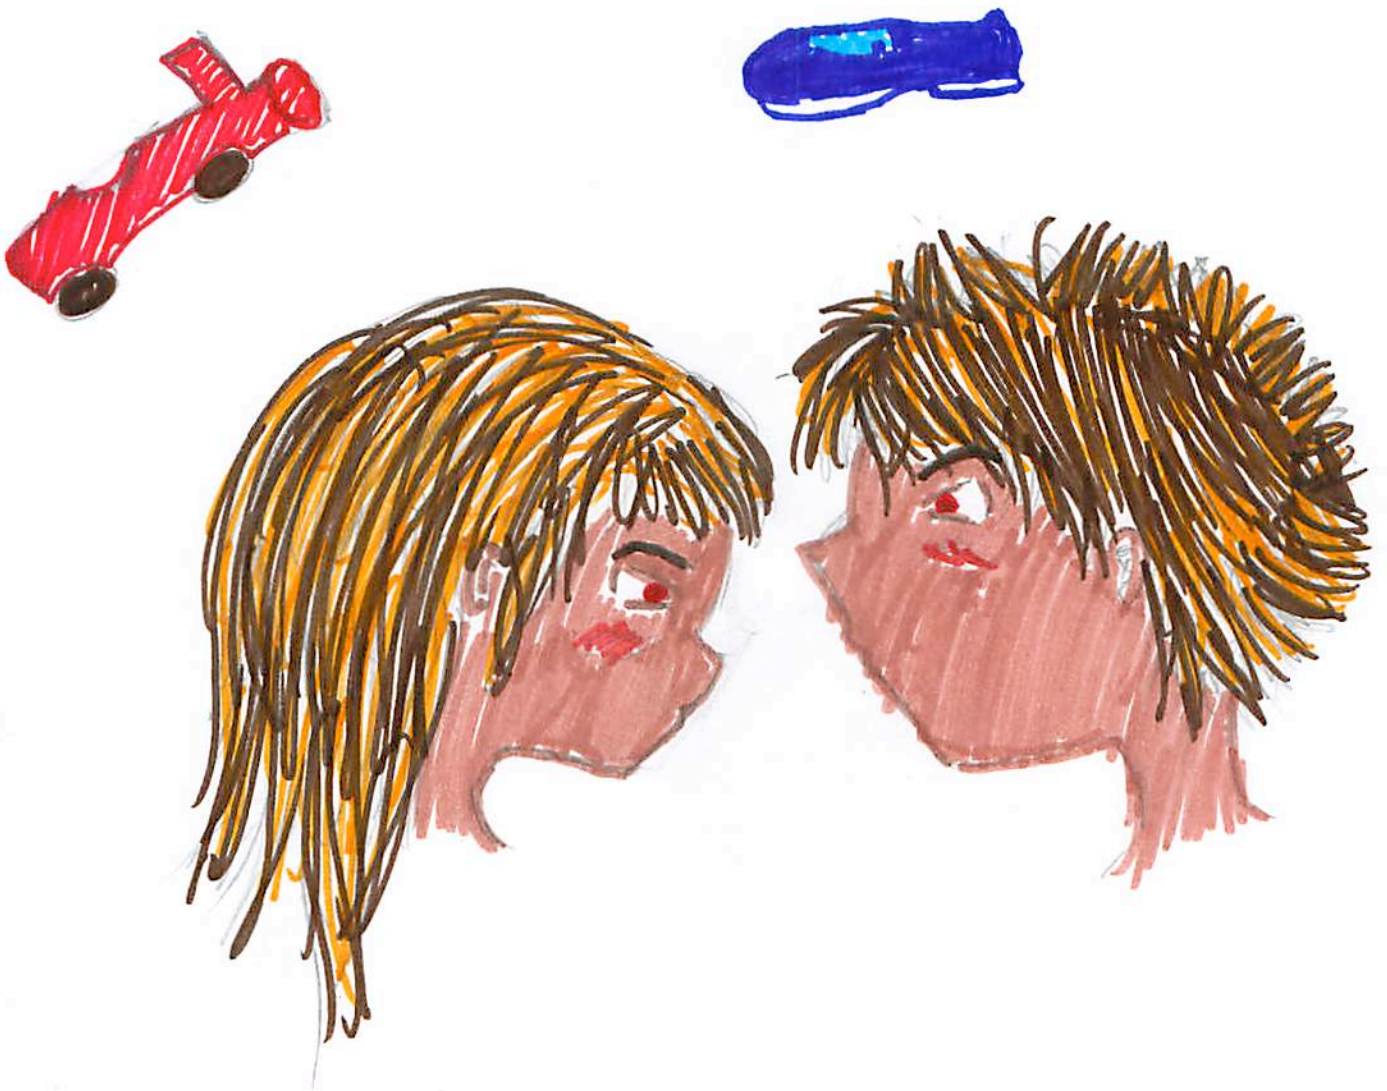

They always shared toys and their room to.

Now, no one knows the whole story for sure except for Jaden and Jade and maybe even one more character who we should keep a secret for the time being.

Well even when your twins you might need some space between the two because when they get older they start to get in each others face for a small reason or two.

They start to argue for a toy and then maybe a shoe all because they get tired of sharing for two.

So one day a very sunny one they both ran into the woods to see what they could find to play with and not argue ever again.

Jaden found a big, old tree, it could of looked to be a least one hundred years old. But he didn't mind it being so big he just wanted to climb.

Jade found a field of different colored flowers. But she didn't mind it being so bright she just wanted to pick a bouquet for her self and no one else.

As Jaden was about to climb the tree Jade came running her hands filled with the most beautiful flowers ever seen.

Jaden was shocked but all he wanted to do was climb the big, old tree.

So Jaden climbed that tree as far up as he can go and stopped at a bough to take a rest.

When he saw a creature never before seen!

The creature stretched his long arms and tapped Jaden on the shoulder and said “Excuse me sir but your sitting on my bed.”

Jaden was shocked and all he wanted to do was climb the big, old tree, but it seems that he changed his mind and wanted to get down. Jade was at the base of the tree waiting for Jaden when she heard rustling from above her. When she looked up she saw two big eyes and opened her mouth to scream.

But before she could do that the creature picked her up and took her to Jaden where he was seen happy to be eating a bright colored fruit that was the very right of sweet.

Jade saw what her brother was eating and wanted some her self, but was to scared to ask for any.

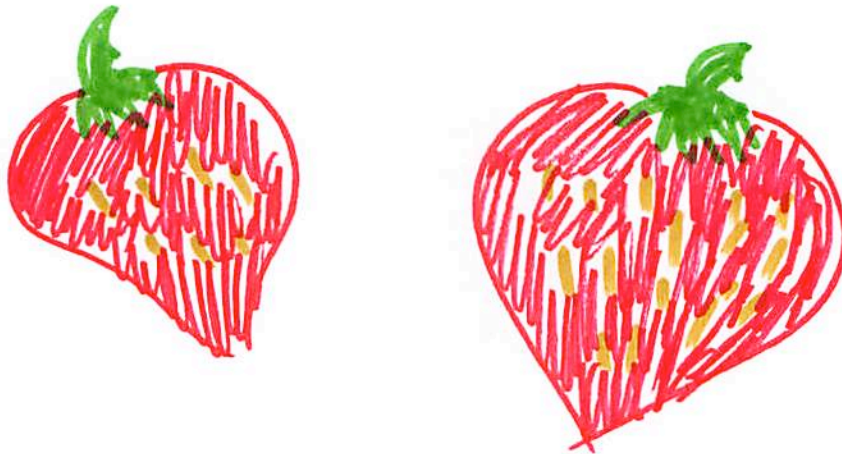

So Jade took it upon herself to ask what the creatures name was. The Creature said “My name is Mr. Sloth and the flowers you got there Missy seem to be pretty tasty mind if I have a stem or three.” Jade was shocked and all she wanted was a bouquet to herself but she changed her mind and gave it all to Mr. Sloth.

Mr. Sloth was grateful that Jade gave him her flowers but he didn't want all of them so he said to Jade, "Thank you for the flowers but i can't possibly eat them all my self that would be to selfish so I will share with my many brothers and sisters that live on this tree with me."

And so in exchange for the flowers Mr. Sloth gave her a bright colored fruit that made Jade all the more content to be on that tree. Then Mr. Sloth said, “Those two pieces of fruit are all I have left so you must share so that everyone can have a piece of both.” and with that he swung himself higher up in to the tree and left the two kids thinking about what he said.

Jade and Jaden climbed back down the tree with fruit in hand thinking about what Mr. Sloth had said. They walked home hand in hand sharing their fruit with out arguing again.
