THE MECKS

"N"

THE SMECKS

A story from long time ago, is one of the Mecks "n" the Smecks. Small creatures that lived on a planet called Zinzo far, far away from planet Earth. They lived 3,000 mega hops passed Jupiter, 8 billion swiggle slops passed the Silky Path, 8 feet to the left, and one step onto the tallest tree on planet Zinzo. Their planet was beautiful and plentiful. They had strong trees who's roots grew far down into the ground. They had fields of poppy dillies, and blue grass, and lots, and lots of wonderful animals. The only thing not good about the planet was that the Mecks "n" the Smecks didn't get along with each other. They always got into fights and didn't get along well at all.

PICTURE

The Mecks never liked the Smecks, and the Smecks never liked the Mecks even though they looked alike in almost every way. They where very small and furry, had arms and legs, ate Zinzo Fruits that could make an ordinary man 300 times stronger, and loved to have fun. The only difference was that the Mecks had great physical strength, and three long tails that hooked on the end so they could climb the Zinzo trees. The Mecks were adventurous and curious, they got into a lot of mischief.

The Smecks on the other hand were very agile and fast. They had one long tail that they used while running top speed to help them keep their balance, like lions and wolves. The Smecks loved to race and play in the fields, they didn't like to go out and explore like the Mecks did. The Smecks would rather stay in the grass and run around playing Ziports (Sports for the Mecks "n" the Smecks).

"Can you see any other differences?"

Or something like that...

One day on Zinzo the mecks got into a confrontation that got pretty bad.

The fighting was brutal and very violent. The Mecks used there strength to over power the Smecks. They would throw Coconugget fruit from the high parts of the trees, and catch the Smecks if they got lucky and throw them far away. The Smecks used there speed to trick the Mecks, and dodge the Coconuggets the Mecks threw. Both sides where being beaten pretty bad. Then out of nowhere a Small Smeck and a Small Meck cried out at the top of there lungs. Everyone stopped fighting immediately and looked at the Small Meck "n" Smeck.

PICTURE

The Big Mecks "n" Smecks didn't know what was going on, and didn't pay much attention to the Small Meck "n" Smeck. The fighting slowly started again. But the Small Meck "n" Smeck where very persistent, and they did not give up. They cried out together again this time even louder making the trees and the ground shake so that the fast Smecks crashed and the strong Mecks fell from the trees. The Big Mecks "n" Smecks looked outraged at the two small ones. They walked over to them and took them to a field with not to much blue grass, and not to much Zinzo Trees.

PICTURE

When The small Meck "n" Smeck where set down in the field of Zinzo Trees, and Blue Grass, they sat and watched the Mecks "n" Smecks continue fighting. Finally the Small Meck got up and started climbing the Zinzo Tree. The Small Smeck looked at him in curiosity as the Small Meck had fun swinging from the branches. The Small Smeck couldn't understand why the Meck was having so much fun so he decided to try climbing the tree for himself, But every time he tried, he would go to fast and end up falling down. After a couple of tries the Small Smeck gave up and began pouting. The Small Meck noticed the Small Smeck failing to climb the tree. He decided to help his new Smeck friend.

PICTURE

The Small Meck swung down from the tree and landed next to the Small Smeck who was pouting at the base of the Zinzo Tree. Small Meck whispered into Small Smecks ear and taught him a hidden Meck secret about climbing trees. Small Smeck smiled and began climbing the tree one more time, except this time slower and more concentrated. He was able to climb all the way to the top, but not as fast as Small Meck of course.

PICTURE

Eventually the two friends got bored of climbing the tree and went out to explore. They looked at weird creatures, and funny bugs that lived on planet Zinzo. Small Smeck had never explored the planet so much and was having a lot of fun. But the Small Meck looked sad. The fighting had still not stopped. The Small Smeck didn't like seeing his Small Meck friend so distressed. Small Smeck found a Zinzo Ball, and threw next to Small Meck. Small Meck saw the Zinzo Ball and looked at it with interest. He picked the ball up and tried to throw it, but it didn't go far at all. Small Smeck laughed and ran over to Small Meck at lightning speed. He picked up the ball and showed Small Meck how to throw it.

PICTURE

Small Meck gave it another try and the ball went flying far, far, far, away! The Small Smeck had never seen a ball thrown so far. He dashed forward running as fast as he could to catch the ball as it flew through the air spiraling passed clouds. When the ball got low enough, Small Smeck jumped into the air and caught the ball. He was so far away from Small Meck that he could barely see him! He ran back to him a little out of breath but with a big smile on his face. He told the Small Meck it was his turn to catch the ball so he ran out into the field but not as fast as the Smeck of course. Small Smeck through the ball and Small Smeck caught it with ease, they where having so much fun. The only problem was that the fighting was still going on.

TO BE CONTINUED... DUN, DUN, DUNNNN!

Small Meck "n" Smeck saw that the war between the Mecks "n" Smecks wasn't ending. It had already been nearly a whole day since the fighting began. When Small Meck "n" Smeck had gotten tired of playing games, they decided to rest for a while. They had already tried to stop the fighting by getting there attention. This time they would try a different approach. Small Meck "n" Smeck sat down underneath the same tree they where put under and started to take a nap, and wait for the Mecks "n" Smecks to stop fighting.

They slept for one day, but the Mecks "n" Smecks still hadn't stopped fighting. They slept for another day but they still hadn't stopped fighting! They slept for 4 days and the Mecks "n" Smecks still had not stopped fighting. On the fifth day small Meck "n" Smeck woke up when the 3rd moon was high in the sky, and the wind was silently blowing through the Zinzo Trees. They both noticed something different. The Mecks "n" The Smecks where fast asleep. The Mecks in the trees, still holding Coconuggets, and the Smecks on the ground holding their Zinzo Balls, and dreaming about the greatest Zports games in the world.

The Small Meck "n" Smeck had gotten a lot of rest from sleeping for so long, that they decided to play some of their games again. They started climbing the tree laughing and having fun as they did. They caught bugs and watched the wierd animals on Zinzo, and even fed them som leaves. All the while some of the Mecks "n" Smecks began waking up. They saw the small Meck "n" smeck having a great time in the tree. They couldnt believe there eyes. The Smecks where especially surprised because one of their kind was climbing a tree!

Eventually the small Meck "n" Smeck climbed down from the tree and started to play Zinzo Ball. The Meck threw the ball far far away like he did last time and the Smeck caught the ball. At this time many more Mecks "n" Smecks where awake. The Mecks looked astonished as they saw the small Meck throw a Zinzo ball and from that far away. The Mecks "n" Smecks started talking to one another about how they could have so much fun together. They all slowly started playing with eachother on the field, with not to many Zinzo Trees, and not to much Blue Grass. The Mecks "n" The Smecks shared the knowledge of their games with each other and played until the sun rose high in the sky. The Small Meck "n" Smeck where thrown high into the air for their ability to accept each others way of life, even before the big Mecks "n" Smecks. They where never forgotten amongst The Mecks "n" Smecks even after years and years passed. Now The Mecks "n" The Smecks arn't called The Mecks "n" The Smecks at all, but The Zinzolians as a whole.

A story from a long time ago, is one of The Mecks "n" The Smecks. They lived in a world of war but where able to create the greatest thing of all amongst one another. That one great thing is Friendship.
