

THE LITTLE WARRIOR

← Knight

By: Ra'Jon
LEWIS

4th period

LITTLE WARRIOR

The Little warrior could play with his toy warriors and say his ABCs backwards. He knew how to count to 100, tie his shoes, and he knew all his months in the year. The only problem was he didn't get the power that his father had. His Father the Great Warrior had speed, ultimate strength and power, he also could fly. The little warrior wanted to be just like his father. But instead he had to be just like the rest of the little kids and just play on the playground, while his father was saving the world.

"Father why can't I fly like you?" said Little Warrior.

"Son, You just have to wait your turn, your time will come one day."

Little warrior walked around the house sad and didn't know what to do. He wanted those special powers just like his dad. He would do anything to get them. So one day he decides to go out to the park with his friend Knight. Knight was his best friend. They did everything together. But little warrior would get jealous of knight sometime because he had magic. He didn't have Magic like his father but he could do some tricky stuff with his magic.

"Hey, let's go tease the other kids with your magic". Little warrior said to knight.

"My Dad says I shouldn't use my magic for that type of stuff."

"Don't be such a baby." Little warrior said.

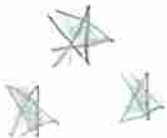

"You're just mad you don't have any type of power, so you want to take advantage of mine."

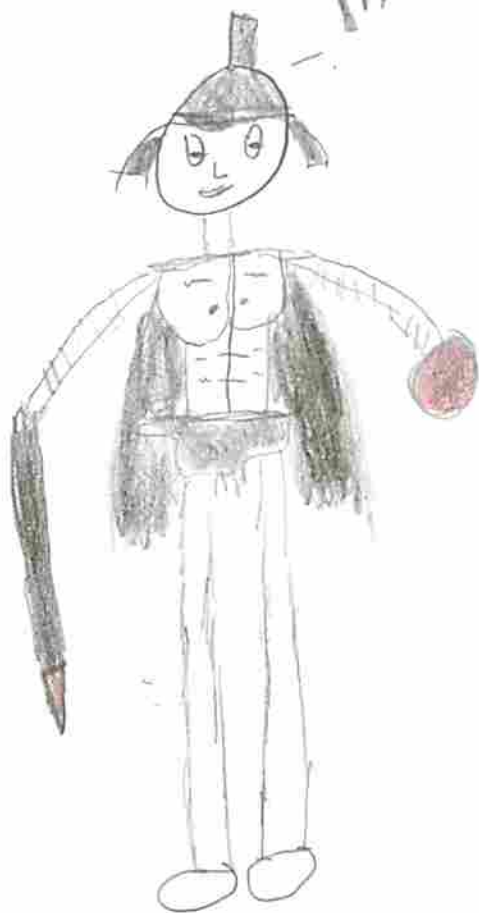

"That's not true, I thought we were best friends, you shouldn't tease me about not having any powers."

"Well, you should think about what you say before you say it."

Knight and little warrior got in to a small argument and were mad at each other for the rest of the day. These were the best of friends and never argued. Little warrior went to go sit by the creek not too far from home. He went there a lot when he was mad or upset. He would always go skip rocks. But one day he tripped and fell in the creek. Little warrior screamed for help.

The Great warrior

“Help me somebody!” Little warrior screamed.

Walking along the creek was his best friend knight. But knight didn't notice that little warrior was in need of help. Knight continued to walk along side of the creek. Little warrior was still in the creek water floating at the top. He was holding on to his heavy metal armor.

“Warrior is that you?” Knight asked.

“Yes, help me!”

“Stay calm buddy I'm going to help you.” Knight said.

Knight used some of his magic to create a short bridge that little warrior could climb on to. Once little warrior climbed on the bridge three hungry alligators came charging at the bridge. They started to attack the legs of the very weak bridge. Little warrior got up and started to make a run to Knight. Once again little warrior trips and falls back into the creek.

“Warrior try to swim.” Knight said very loud.

All three of the alligators went straight after little warrior. Warrior was swimming to shore as fast as he could. Knight threw a very large rock at the first alligator. The second alligator was right on Little warrior's tail.

“Warrior watch out!” Knight Said.

The Alligator opened its Large mouth and went for little Warriors foot. Little Warrior hopped up on shore.

“Lets get out of here.” Little Warrior said to knight.”

Knight called for his Big Beautiful white unicorn to come. It was there very fast.

They got on the unicorn and left.

“Thanks for the help Knight.” Little warrior said.

“That’s what friends are for”. Knight said

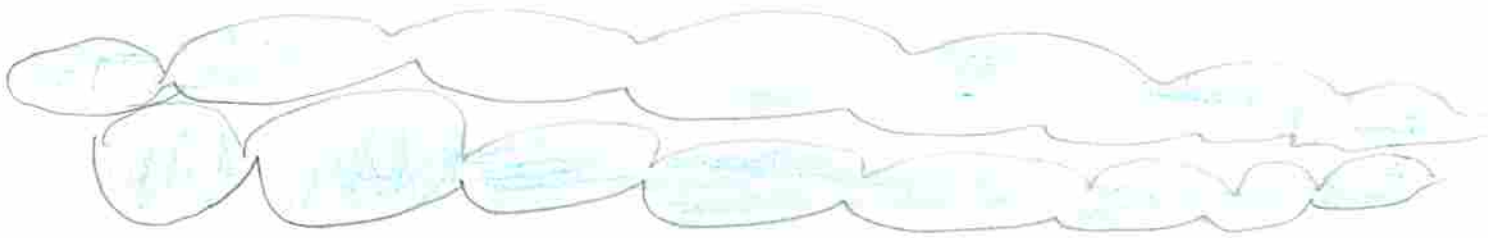

“Sorry about earlier, I shouldn’t have gotten mad at you.”

“Its Ok, You’re my best friend, I wouldn’t stay mad at you for long.”

Knight and little Warrior went out to go get some ice cream. Little warrior saw his dad’s horse stuck in quick sand as they headed towards Knights castle. He also saw his dad’s armor and shield laying on the ground. Knight rushed over to the horse and tried to help him. While running towards the horse knight fell into the quick sand also. Little warrior really didn’t know what to do. He grabed knights hand and tried to pull him up. Little warrior wasn’t strong enough to do so. Little warrior used all of the strength he had inside of him and pulled knight up! The horse was still suffering. He was to deep in to the sand. Little warrior couldn’t do anything about it. So they had to use Knights magic. He Used some type of magic potion to pull the horse out of the quick sand. The potion got the horse up.

“Knight stay with the horse while I go find my father, Little Warrior said.

Little warrior saw his dad laying on the ground in pain. He went over to see what had happen to him but his dad wouldn’t say a word. Little warrior picked him up and started flying! Little warrior couldn’t believe what was happening. He flew his dad to the nearest hospital to get treatment. Everything was going to be ok.

Rajon Lewis

Little Warrior was so excited that he some type of power he could use.

And from that day forward he would help anybody that needed help.